

Congressman Blumenauer met with members of the Lloyd District Transportation Management Association (TMA) the first week in January to learn about their programs and priorities, which include the continuation of the Free Rail Zone, sustained funding for transit, and the development of the Lloyd EcoDistrict. The Congressman congratulated them for their success in significantly increasing the use of walking, biking and transit as commute modes, noting that their efforts are a model for similar programs throughout the country.

